

Input: Boris Johnson has said the UK is “past” the peak of its coronavirus outbreak and is looking towards a lockdown exit strategy, as he led the British government’s coronavirus briefing for the first time since recovering from Covid-19.

Abstract: The UK has passed its coronavirus peak, Boris Johnson says.

Extract: Boris Johnson has said the UK is “past” the peak of its coronavirus outbreak and is looking towards a lockdown exit strategy